MIDKIFF FOUND MUCH WORK AT CITIZENS' CAMP

Mingled for Month With Millionaires and Businessmen at Monterey, Cal.

Wearing a healthy tan, keener of eye and carrying a set of steady muscles which denote rigorous life in the open, Frank E. Midkiff, athletic instructor at Oahu College, returned to Honolulu in the Matsuna today after a month spent at the business men's training camp at Monterey, Cal., conducted under the direction of the War Department.

And it was "all-fired hard work," Midkiff declares. He feels that he has prepared himself not only to defend his country, should the occasion arise, but to instruct the boys of Punahele in military training and military tactics, a feature in the curriculum which has become so popular during the last year. Midkiff went to the Monterey camp at the suggestion of the trustees of the college.

Midkiff tells an interesting story of the month he spent at the camp. Heville was at 9 o'clock in the morning, he says, and there was very little recess until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when everyone was glad to rest up until mess call announced supper. Midkiff hobnobbed with some who were millionaires and others who were not millionaires. And the moneyed men, he says, labored in the kitchens and polished the parade ground and camp with as much enthusiasm as the others.

The war were 1200 men in the camp, thus making a complete regiment of three battalions of four full companies each.

"We were put through what a regular soldier gets during his term of enlistment," Midkiff explains. "And that is going some. We had close and extended order drills, and studied problems of attack and defense. Then we worked out other problems, both by company and by regiment. We studied camp sanitation, first aid, the art of hiking, and it is an art; bridge building, patrolling, the construction of trenches and the building of fortifications."

There were lectures now and then on subjects such as the artillery, cavalry, messenger service, aeroplanes and all other departments sub-serving the infantry.

"Taking it all together, I had a grand summer and met a fine lot of people. This camp proposition is a good idea, there is no question about that. Men came to it chiefly because they felt that they should be prepared to serve their country. They were well-instructed, thoroughly drilled, and at the end of the month went home, many wearing recommendations for commissions as officers in the National Guard."

Such a recommendation was given to Midkiff, who, in addition to the military work, took a special course in physical training. This winter Midkiff will take a course in tactical problems furnished him by the army school at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

MAY PRINT AT LEAST
5000 COPIES G. O. P.
PLATFORM FOR VOTERS

At least 5000 copies of the Republican platform, adopted at the recent local convention, may be printed in the near future for distribution among the members of the party, according to discussion given the matter at a meeting on Monday evening of the central committee. It has been proposed that half of the copies be printed in English and the remainder in Hawaiian. A committee consisting of Chairman Emil A. Berndt and Vice-Chairman Harry Murray will have charge of the printing and translation and will decide on the number of copies.

Aside from regular routine work, the committee appointed a sub-committee on finance consisting of G. P. Wilder, J. G. Smith and Chairman Berndt. Chairman Berndt was appointed a committee of one to secure permanent headquarters for the committee. The next meeting of the central committee is scheduled for Monday evening, August 28, at 7:30 o'clock.

LOCAL TEACHER TO BE WITNESS IN BOMB CASES

Herbert Wade of Maui Was in San Francisco When Explosion Marred Big Parade

At least one resident of the territory will be a witness for the government in the trial of those alleged to have been implicated in the recent bomb outrage during the preparedness parade in San Francisco. He is Herbert Wade, principal of the Pauwela, Maui, school, notification of the government's desire to detain him as a witness having reached the department of public instruction in a letter from the district attorney at San Francisco.

Wade was among the thousands of spectators who watched the preparedness parade and was near the scene of the explosion which resulted in the death of a number of persons and the serious injury of others. A man carrying a suitcase is said to have bumped into him shortly before the explosion. It is the belief of the San Francisco police that the bomb which exploded was brought to the scene of the outrage in such a container.

The district attorney's letter to the department is as follows:

"One of your teachers, Mr. Herbert Wade, who teaches at Pauwela, island of Maui, Hawaii, will be a very important witness for the state in the prosecution of murder charges arising out of the recent bomb outrage here of July 22, 1916. We would kindly ask you to do all possible to see that Mr. Wade is not inconvenienced by reason of the fact that he will have to come back here as a witness for us."

Wade is now in Honolulu and is registered at the Alexander Young hotel.
